Oakland All Prepared For Legion Confab

Program For Three - Day Session Complete To Last Detail

Fleet To Perform

Aerial Circus Planned For Sunday Afternoon At Airport

Oakland, August 11.—The greatest conclave of the California Department of the American Legion in its fourteen years of existence awaits the thousands of delegates and their friends who will begin pouring in here from every section of the state at the end of the week to be on hand for the opening gong of the Legion convention which opens Monday, August 15th, and that of the American Legion Auxiliary, the 40 and 8 and the 8 and 40.

Walter H. Eliassen, general convention chairman, assisted by a corps of sub-committee chairmen and a large group of active workers has everything in readiness to put over the biggest Legion demonstration ever to be held in California. Arrangements for the handling of the convention, entertainment of the delegates and visitors and the running off of the various contests have been perfected to the last detail. The program for the three day session is brimfull of interesting events and Eliassen promises that there will not be a dull moment.

One of the big features of the convention will be the presence in Oakland harbor of eleven units of the United States Naval Fleet, under the command of Admiral R. H. Leigh, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, with 10,000 officers and men aboard. The battleships were especially ordered here by President Hoover to participate in the convention.

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, famous opera contralto, who lost two sons in the World War, and who has given innumerable benefits for veterans will be a special guest of honor at the convention. At the opening session she will sing "The Americans Come." In her own inimitable manner she answered the committee's invitation to be present thusly: "Oh, you my beloved Sons! Of course I will be with you. I come in my own car. Will sing the best songs with all my heart and voice."

Registration for the convention will commence Saturday morning, August 13, at the Hotel Oakland. In the evening the 8 and 40 will hold a dinner dance at the Hotel Leamington and the 40 and 8 a "Whoopee Show" at the Orpheum Theater.

Sunday, August 14, will start off with the Adjutant's Breakfast presided over by James K. Fisk, state adjutant, followed by the final meeting of the outgoing department executive committee, with state Commander Van Hogan in the chair. An aerial circus will be held at the Oakland airport in the afternoon and the battleships will be open to visitors. It is planned to put on one of the most outstanding aerial exhibitions ever held in the west. More than one hundred planes will be in the air. Stunts, races, parachute jumps and other features are included in the program.

The Ninety-first Division Association dinner, 40 and 8 stag banquet and the American Legion Auxiliary reception to distinguished guests will be held in the evening together with a beautiful display of fireworks of patriotic designs on Lake Merritt. An inter-area ritualistic contest will also be held.

A concert, and the raising of the National colors will mark the opening of the first business session on Monday morning, August 15. The convention will be called to order by State Commander Van Hogan of Los Angeles with invocation by John R. Lechner, state chaplain. Elmer P. Zollner, commander of Oakland Post No. 5 will welcome the delegates and Mayor Frand N. Morcom and City Manager O. E. Carr will be introduced to the assemblage by Dr. John F. Slavich, past department commander. Governor James Rolph Jr. will extend the greetings of the State of California to the Legionnaires. During the early morning hours drum and bugle corps and band elimination contests will be held. More than 40 drum corps and twenty bands from every section of the state will participate.

The Legion parade which promises to be the greatest moving spectacle in local history will be held Monday afternoon. Thousands of ex-service men and women, wearing colorful uniforms reminiscent of war days will march in the procession together with forces of the regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps, drum and bugle corps, bands and drill teams interspersed with beautiful floats. Four hours will be required for the parade to pass the reviewing stand. Rear Admiral Laws commandant of the Twelfth Naval District will be grand marshal.

The band and drum corps finals will be held in the evening. Prior to the contests all the musical bodies and drill teams will gather in mass formation on the field to participate in a flag raising ceremony. Exhibitions will be given by the Legion and Auxiliary drill teams.

Business sessions will hold sway in the morning, afternoon and evening of Tuesday. At the night meeting the Auxiliary will sit with the Legion. Distinguished guests will be introduced and citations and trophies awarded to posts and units. Contests and entertainment for the day include pistol and rifle matches, golf tournament, sightseeing tours, visits to the battleships, 40 and 8 illuminated parade and Mardi Gras, climaxed by a midnight show in the convention auditorium at which movie, radio and theatrical stars will perform.

Wednesday will witness the closing sessions of the convention. Delegates to the National Convention at Portland and department officers for the ensuing year elected. At noon the Oakland Kiwanis Club will entertain visiting members at a luncheon. The convention will officially close with the Commanders' and Presidents' grand ball at the Oakland Auditorium. This affair will be the big social gathering.

Rossi Will Open County Horse Show Tomorrow Morning

The greatest show ever held by the San Mateo County National Horse Show Association is scheduled for opening by Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 10:30 o'clock. The show will continue for one week and has attracted record entries including some of the greatest horses in the United states and the mounts of the oyal Swedish Army team which is contending at the Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

After interesting morning and matinee performances the affair will swing into real action at the night show when many of the most noted horses of the country will be seen in the judges' ring. "Chief of Longview", the famous chestnut stallion owned by Mrs. W. P. Roth of Woodside, will appear in the Herbert Fleischacker $250 stake for fine harness horses. Competition will be furnished by "Flamm Rouge" who has won many blue ribbons for the Scripps-Meanley stable at Pomona and "Vagabond Prince", one of the fourteen horses brought north by Miss Mary Gwyn Fiers of Oklahoma City, who is exhibiting on the Pacific Coast for the first time. "Adolphus", the well-known sttplechaser, is entered in the hunter class. Among his cometitors are "Post Paid" and "Gunner", owned by Miss Barbara Donohoe of this city, and "Max", Miss Marion Dick's entry.

Another event in which noted horses will compete for high honors is the three-gaited horse class. This brings together "Roxie Highland", winner of blue ribbons at many of the great shows of the country owned by Miss Fiers of Oklahoma City; "Marjoline" from the Scripps-Meanley stable at Pomona and "Glory of Spring" and "Cheerio" from the Roth stable.

"Sweetheart on Parade," a mare owned by Mrs. Roth who is expected to win her third consecutive world's championship at the next Louisville, Kentucky show, is another attraction on Saturday night and appears in the J. B. Perry and Son stake of $250 for five-gaited mare where she meets two Fiers' entries, "Naughty But Nice" and "Jeannette Gay"; "Mary Mine", the Blecher entry and several others.

The Sunday matinee features a $250 stake for jumpers which brings into competition some of the greatest jumpers on the Pacific Coast. The leading entries come from the Morgensen, Rosecrans and McCleave stables.

On Sunday night many local horses and riders will be featured on the program. Local horse lovers are keenly interested in the three-gaited local horse class in which are entered "Safari", owned by Guido Caglieri, Jr., of Los Altos, now being conditioned by Henry Clark at the C. H. Merrill place on Oak Grove avenue, and eight others including "Golden Rod", the Kuhn entry. The jumping class for amateurs brings together a fine collection of talent including "Malicorne", owned by Miss Barbara Donohoe; "Dr. Leggo" and "Gold Stamp", entered by Mrs. Alma Spreckles Rosecrans, and "Advertisement", one of the Morgensen horses.

Interest will be maintained in the show when the great equestrian teams which represented the armies of the United States and Sweden at the Olympic Games, arrive Monday to stage two exhibitions every night of the show and denew their Olympic Games' rivalry in two afternoon contests, Wednesday, and Saturday, August 20.

Local Nimrods Find Black Bear Tough Bird

Word comes to us from two of Menlo Park's hunters that somewhere in Lake County the bones of a big black bear of bleaching in the sun.

Al Groce and Dom Ryan, journed into Lake county last week for the sole purpose of getting a buck each and in the course of events run onto a 400 pound bear. Groce was on a hill side and was first to spot the animal and, as may be expected of a good huntsman, cut loose on him with his trusty rifle, by contrary to expectations bruin did not curle up and die, he made for the hunter. Groce climbed up on a rock to be in a better position to see the bear when it approached, and, to his surprise the bear climbed the same rock, the hunter fired another shot hitting the bear in the jaw and bruin started down the hill toward Ryan who was in the canyon, leaving his tormentor calling to Ryan in no gentle voice, "A bear, a bear, get him."

Ryan states that he put three bullets into the bear, just back of the fore leg, inducing him to lay down and die.

According to reports the animal was too heavy to bring out so he was skinned and portions of the hams prepared for eating, but after being cooked, and cooked and then cooked some more, the meat proved so tough thant it made sole-leather ashamed of itself. The bear measured seven and a half feet from the tip of his nose to the tip of his tail.

The two hunters secured two fine bucks, a forked horn and a three pointer also.

As there was some doubt as to the season on bear being open in Lake county the game warden interviewed the two huntsmen this week, but at last reports, he, the warden, was of the opinion that both the bear and Lake County were better off, and that no law had been violated.

Shippers Wrrned By Railroad Commission In Truck Line Cases

Holding shippers equally liable to punishment for misuse of the public highways in the transportation of freight, the California State Railroad Commission has unsheathed a new and powerful weapon in its fight to curb the activities of so-called "wildcat" truck operators, it was disclosed today.

The commission's readiness at this time to exert its ful authority by proceeding against those who "aid and abet" violations of the laws governing truck lines was declared emphatically in decisions finding five truck owners and companies guilty of operating without permits.

It was held, according to the announcement, that the truck owners in question were operating illegally as common carriers, in competition with certified motor lines and railroads. They were ordered to cease operations.

Particular attention was called to the fact that a violation of the order would constitute contempt, punishable by fine or imprisonment, and that persons patronizing illegal truck lines are also subject to penalties provided by law. The commission directed that copies of the order be served on shippers involved in the cases.

By taking cognizance for the first time of violations of the law by shippers as well as "wildcat" truck operators, the commission indicated its intention to take drastic action to protect the interests of the state and its legalized carriers against unlawful and runious competition, according to word received here.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wolters of Lemon avenue, and their daughters, Meta and Juliane, are at their cottage at Camp Meeker, where they are enjoying a few days vacation.

Council Continues Assessment District Protest Hearing

Confirmation of the assessment levied for the condemnation of land to open Iive Oak avenue to University drive was delayed last Tuesday night when the city council continued the protest hearing to next Tuesday after several Live Oak avenue residents vociferously protested the levy.

The assessment, which totals $1574.96, has been split up among property owners in the Live Oak avenue district. City Attorney George K. Whitworth explained that the city had donated $15000 to the paving cost of Live Oak avenue as an offset to the cost of the land necessary to be acquired for the opening of the end of the street. At first, he said, the council was doubtful whether the city could afford any contribution whatsoever. In addition, he said, the city is also paying $543 for the incidental expenses in the condemnation of the land and has advanced under court order in order to gain possession a total of $1574.96. This latter sum, according to Whitworth, is what the city is seeking to recover through the assessment.

The group of protestants, however, expressed the belief that the city should pay for the entire cost of the opening, because it benefitted the entire town. Much was made of the erection of 20 electroliers in the Live Oaks avenue improvement project, whereas only six of them are now lighted.

City Attorney Whitworth replied that the city was in effect paying for the cost of the opening because of the donation of $1500 to the paving cost as an offset. That the property owners had not been told that that was the case was alleged by Mrs. J. J. Alexander. Whitworth also declared that the actual cost of lighting the electroliers was obviously not included in their purchase and installation price.

After extensive discussion, members of the council voted to continue the hearing to next Tuesday night. Among other protestants who spoke were John O'Keefe and F. M. Haydenabber.

Communications were received from W. L. Iversen of 900 Roble avenue asking that the grass and weeds on a neighboring lot be burned off and from Charles W. Call requesting that he be granted a permit to open a smoke shop in the O'Keefe building on the highway near the corner of Oak Grove avenue.

resentatives of the district were present.

Matthew Harris, former mayor of Atherton, addressed the meeting. He spoke of his friendship with Mr. Poole and mentioned his many accomplishments during the past four years. He urged the re-election of Mr. Poole on the basis of his record.

James Howell of Atherton, chairman of the board of freeholders, spoke as a private citizen. He mentioned the assistance Mr. Poole rendered in the formation of the charter.

W. H. Morrissey, president of the Redwood City Promotion Club, spoke in behalf of Mr. Poole. He lauded him on the way he handled the business of the Third district. He mentioned investigating the many expenditures and found that the taxpayers of this district had received more for their money than any of the other districts.

Other speakers of the evening were Philip Brand, financial secretary of the club; Ward Tucker of North Fair Oaks; Judge George Montell of Menlo Park; Julius Smith, and others.

Mr. Poole has consistently served the interests of his constituents and looked after the interests of his district, making the Third District the outstanding one of San Mateo county.

The re-election of Mr. Poole at this time is an absolute necessity, in order that this development of the district may be continue on the efficient and economical plan that is now being pursued.

There will be a meeting of the local Unemployment committee in the city hall at eight o'clock this evening. Those wishing to secure clothing, or being need of the same, should call on Mrs. Jean B. Hoss, 1181 El Camino Real, and make their needs known.

Miss Madeline Veverka has been in this city visiting with her brother, Joe Veverka over the week and will leave for her home in Los Angeles today. She is at the head of the Los Angeles school department.

Haydock Speaks Before Homebuilders At Redwood

Wesley Haydock ,candidate for state assemblyman for San Mateo county, speaking before a special meeting of the oHmebuilder's Clubs of Redwood City, said, "It is my desire during this campaign, to have the voters understand that I am not making any elaborate promises; I would rather know that the voters believe in my integrity, my absolute freedom from any political associations, and know that I am a firm beilever in the ideals expressed in the Democartic form of government.

"I do not waste the peoples' time and my time in shouting that I am for lower taxes, that I am for the conversion of our natural resiurces, and that I am for the intellectual advancement of our people. I do not waste your time this these promises because I believe that any man of common sense is for these sound principles. My only campaign pledge is the faithful performance of my duty with honor and the obedience of the voice of the people, my first and only guiding light."

In justifying his wish to become assemblyman for San Mateo county he said, "I am guided only by a desire to serve the people well and have ambitions of someday becoming a statesman. I believe that we need new men in government; men, not so old that they can remember the aftal mistakes of the past and naturally treat all new ideas with fear and distrist, because they are afraid of new and greater mistakes, but young men with ambition, and courage, and the will to enact new ideas. And certainly, there has never been a time in our history, when there has been greater need for new ideas."

John Maloney, of this city and a member of Hadock's publicity staff, is returning from a weeks' visit in Los Angeles today. Maloney will take an active part in forwarding Haydock's campaign during the next two weeks.

A temporary fire house was constructed, and a fire truck and srew were installed this week by the local fire department at the Menlo Circus Club grounds on Park Lane, Atherton.

The fire truck and its crew will be kept on duty there until the conclusion of the San Mateo County National Horse Show, which is to be held at the circus club from August 13 to 20. This precaution is being taken to guard against the added fire hazard created through the erection of many temporary stables to house horses entered in the show.

FOR A RED HOT SUMMER

FOR a red hot summer, tomato cocktails are a red cool drink. But there are lots of drinks of many other colors that also come out of cans. There are all the fruit juices, for instance—grapefruit, orange, pineapple, cider, grape juice — and sauerkraut and the syrups from canned fruits which are used in many combination drinks.

So here are a bevy of beverages from cans which will slake your summer thirst, save your time and energy, and taste all the better to you because they're so easy to concoct. Tomato juice is delicious, of course, just as it comes from the can, but let's start with a couple of good recipes for serving it in combination with other ingredients.

Sparkling Tomato Beverage: Add the juice of one lemon, one tablespoon sugar and salt to taste to the contents of two 10-ounce cans of tomato juice, and have very cold. Add one-half pint, ice cold, of your favorite carbonated water, and serve at once in small glass cups. This makes six cups.

Tomato Cocktail: Mix together two and one-half cups (twenty ounces) tomato juice, two teaspoons malt vinegar, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ten drops tobasco sauce and two teaspoons lemon juice. Chill, and serve in cocktail glasses. Serves six.

Early Morning Drink

Tomato juice "as is" is an excellent morning drink. If you want to fuss it up a little for an extra special thirst, try this

Tomato and Ginger Ale Pick-Me-Up: Add one tablespoon sugar, the juice of one lemon and a few grains of salt to the contents of one 9½-ounce can of tomato juice, and chill over night. Also chill one-half pint ginger ale over night. In the morning combine the two, and serve at once. This makes four small glasses.

Or if you prefer a sweeter morning drink with more fruit in it, try this Morning Punch: Combine two cups orange juice, two-thirds cup syrup from canned pineapple (all from a No. 2 can) and one-fourth cup raspberry syrup (all from an 8-ounce can) and four tablespoons lemon juice. Chill over night. Serves six.

Tasty Iced Tea

For lunch and for the afternoon iced tea is a welcome thirst quencher, and there are several ways to vary it to make it an especial treat. Here are two.

Tropical Iced Tea: Dissolve three tablespoons confectioner's sugar in the contents of a No. 2 can of unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice, and tint a delicate shade of green with vegetable coloring. Pour into ice cube refrigerator pans, drop a maraschino cherry in each compartment, and let freeze. Make ice tea as usual, sweetening to taste while still hot. Chill. Serve in tall glasses with one or two pineapple ice cubes and a wedge of lemon. One recipe will make ten to twelve cubes.

Fruit Flip: Boil seven-eighths cup sugar, one cup orange juice and one orange rind cut in thin strips for five minutes, then cool. Add one and one-half cups strong cold tea, two tablespoons lemon juice and the contents of a No. 2 can of unsweetened pineapple juice. Serve over cubes of frozen ginger ale or ice. This makes one quart, or fills eight punch glasses.

Beer and Punch

Don't wait all summer for the Senate to legislate about beer, but keep yourself cool in the meantime with this

Fruit Beer: Dissolve one-third cup confectioner's sugar in one and one-half cups fruit syrup consisting of the syrup from a No. 2 can of peach halves and the syrup from a No. 2 can of grapefruit, and three tablespoons lemon juice. Chill thoroughly. Beat one egg white stiff, and pour the fruit combination over, beating constantly. Pour on two pints ice cold ginger ale, and serve at once over cracked ice. This makes eight tall or sixteen punch glasses. The left-over peach halves and grapefruit, by the way, make excellent ingredients for a summer salad.

And here's a summer punch made with cider, a summer product, which will prove very grateful to your insides—or make them grateful to you, whichever way you want to put it.

Cider Punch: Boil together one quart water, one cup sugar and one-third cup finely chopped candied ginger till a thin syrup. Cool. Add one-half cup lemon juice, one quart cider, and the syrup from one No. 2 can of sliced Hawaiian pineapple, and serve very cold. This makes a lot of punch, but that will be what you want.*

S. M. COUNTY HAS FIRST WOMAN JURORS ACCORDING TO RECORDS ON FILE

There were 17 women on the panel of 30, 11 of whom served after their names were dramn from the box to make up the 19 grand jurors necessary, according to the records.

Judge Buck was well pleased with the work and attention given by the women to their duties and reports published in the papers of that year state that he paid them high compliment for their service.

was booing Lehtinen to the skies.

On this same incident the greatest sportsmanship was shown by Ralph Hill. Although he would have had the 60,000 fans with him to a man if he had started throwing fists, he showed his true nature, which we wish we could say was universally American, by claiming that he did not believe that Lehtinen had fouled him on purpose.

Getting away from the track and field, let us take a paragraph to call attention to Mrs. Eleanor Garratti Saville. The San Francisco girl quit swimming in 1928 following the games, retiring and getting married. This year she came back to set a new 100-meter record in the free-style event and to place third in the finads. A neat comeback, we'll say.

Sport Sketches

By Theron Fox

Little Juan Carlos Zabala copped the only first money of the Olympics for Argentine when he trotted around the 26 mile 385 yards course last Sunday for the marathon honors.

Upon entering the stadium he joyously waved his cap to the crowd of 75,000 which rose as one to thunder its applause. He crossed the finish line in 2:31:36 hours establishing a new olympic record.

This spontaneous jubilation of the crowd over a magnificent victory, and the formal championship award came as the climax of what were unquestionably the greatest Olympic track and field games of all time.

There were, figuratively speaking a million surprises in the eight days of record breaking track and field competition. The greatest was probably the double victory of Eddie Tolan in the sprints, while the third meeting of Carr and Eastman, added a further all American flavor to the event.

Possibly the award for exhibition of greatest nerve, strength and determination should go to Jim Bausch who won the decathlon, a punishing championsip to win just as it is a relatively boring competition to watch.

The track and field games' hard-luck champion was Ralph Metcalfe of Marqueete who was set back too far at the start of his lane of the 200-meter final. This error probably cost him the double-century title.

The leather medal for official stupidity went without contest to the alternate lap-checker who made the 3000 meter steeplechase boys do an extra tour around the stadium.

The award for presence of mind in a trying moment was the property of Bill Henry, sports technical director, and official announcer, who by his plea to remember these people are our guests restored order after the crowd, thoroughly aroused,
